

Professional Liability for Architects and Engineers

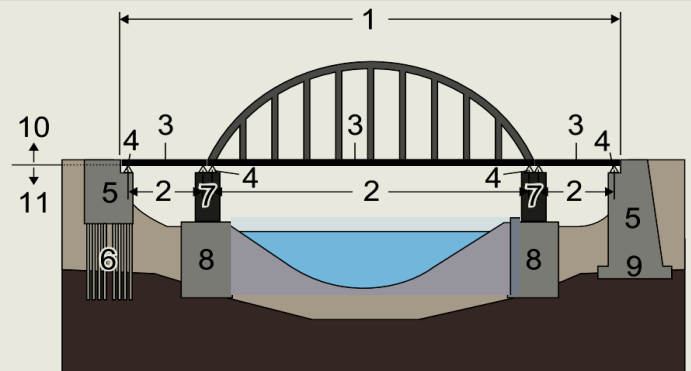

Major construction and renovation projects are in the works. Are you ready? At GPL, we are.

When doing business in a fragmented and consolidated industry such as yours, it is a daily challenge to generate new mandates to promote growth, despite major strain on your fees. With all these pressures, and in order to protect your reputation and ensure the continuity of your business, you must manage adequately your most important risk: i.e. your professional liability in a legal environment that is increasingly litigious.

With that in mind, major construction and renovation projects are in the works and we, at GPL, can assist you in taking advantage of these opportunities.

Expertise: Our firm has been serving architects and engineering firms for more than 20 years. Throughout the years, we have developed an expertise not only regarding professional liability but also regarding the various providers (insurers, adjusters, etc.). This expertise is made complete by our construction insurance division.

Proactive service: Whether you need us to obtain insurance limits specific to a project, or to have an exclusion removed, or to advise you during the claims process or an acquisition, or simply to issue insurance certificates, we understand the timeframe issues and specific nature of your projects, and we work with you to establish a personalized relationship.

Relationship with insurance markets: We negotiate with major local and international insurers who specialize in underwriting professional liability risks. Over the years, and through numerous risk placements, we have developed a close relationship with these insurance companies. Before recommending an insurer, we look at its financial stability, its expertise pertaining to professional liability, and its capability to sustain this type of risk underwriting over the long run.

Since we favor a global approach, we can meet all of your insurance needs such as property insurance, casualty insurance, directors and officers' liability, environmental liability, automobile and group insurance for your employees.

To contact us:
Christian Giner, MBA, LL.B.
cginer@gplassurance.com
☎ 514-788-4407

www.gplassurance.com

Tailor-made solutions | Personalized service

GPL
assurance

Trustworthy professional services • An unmatched expertise of the insurance market • Advice on minimizing and managing your risks
• Advocacy of your interests during the claims process • Solutions to complex problems

This bulletin is produced for your information only and constitutes neither an opinion on the stated coverage nor legal advice.